

Clare Paulson is the owner and founder of Corporate Coaching & Training Services. He has been providing management training and coaching to clients from a wide range of industries for the last 25+ years. His broad experience contributes much to the presentations that he designs and presents to industry.

Clare has his BSc from the University of Alberta, followed by extensive personal and business development courses through public and private providers. He has received the designations of Certified Professional Behaviour Analyst, Certified Professional Values Analyst, TriMetrixHD Analyst,

Clare Paulson

Certified “The Prioritized Leader” Analyst, and Performance DNA Analyst through extensive training and experience with TTI Success Insights, Inc. These designations prepare him to provide his clients with superior assistance in finding, training, and retaining top performing employees.

